PEACE AWAITS TAYLOR

Settlement In Kentucky Depends on His Decision.

PROMISED TO ANNOUNCE IT TODAY.

Give Out an Interview, Saying That If Assured Kentucky Would Have a Just Election Law, He Would Be Willing to Retire—Advised to Do So.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 7.—Whether it shall be war or peace in Kentucky rests with Governor Taylor alone. He declared that he would announce his decision today.

"I wish to see my attorneys," he said, "and to consult with them about certain forms of the agreement before I announce my intention. I will not say what I intend to do until after I have obtained legal advice."

A consultation of the attorneys was afterward held in Governor Taylor's office.

The text of the agreement reached by the Louisville conference was brought to him by a committee consisting of General Dan Lindsay, T. H. Baker and T. L. Edelin. They handed Governor Taylor a copy of the agreement, were closeted with him a short time and then departed. As they left the building Mr. Baker remarked: "I hope and believe that the entire matter will be amicably adjusted. More than this I am unable to say at the present time."

General Lindsay and Mr. Edelin spoke in similar terms, and while all expressed themselves as reasonably confident that Governor Taylor would acquiesce in the terms of the agreement, they all desired to be understood as saying that they had no authoritative reason from Governor Taylor for entertaining the belief they expressed.

Before he had received a copy of the agreement, Governor Taylor discussed the conditions as he understood them to be before receiving official notice, and said:

"Under no circumstances will I discuss the agreement before a copy of it has reached me. It would be most unfair and most discourteous for me to do so. Speaking generally, however, I would say that if an agreement can be made by which an election law will be given to the people of Kentucky through the operation of which a fair election and an honest count are assured to the citizens of this state, no personal ambition of mine will be allowed to stand in the way."

One of the attorneys, who has been prominent on the Republican side in the contest cases, and who therefore does not wish his name used in connection with an interview, said:

"It is, in my opinion, the duty of Governor Taylor to sign the agreement. If he does not, he will lose greatly in standing in his own party. I know that he will do what he believes to be right and best for the welfare of the state. It seems to me that under the circumstances there can hardly be two opinions as to what his course must be."

Senator Blackburn expressed himself as being confident that the entire trouble would be settled peacefully.

"It is entirely natural," he said, "that the other side should wish to take time to consider the agreement, and to prepare its statement to be issued at the same time the signature is affixed. I have no knowledge of what will be done, but I firmly believe that the agreement will be accepted substantially as adopted by the members of the Louisville conference, and that all chance of trouble will be avoided."

When asked for his opinion of the consequences should Governor Taylor decline to accept the agreement, Senator Blackburn said: "That is a question I do not care to discuss nor even to think about. If no settlement is made now, it will lead to endless complications before the end is reached."

RESPECT SHOWN GOEBEL

Republican Legislators, at London, Ad-Journed, Owing to His Assassination.

Chaplains Prayed For Guidance.

LONDON, Ky., Feb. 7.—The Kentucky legislature met in the little two-story, brick Laurel county seminary building, which was stood upon a knoll, in the outskirts of London, for a most 50 years.

The 13 members who constituted the senate, which was held in the upper chamber, had plenty of room, but the 35 representatives in the session of the house on the ground floor were considerably crowded, some of them being forced to stand. The senators were called to order by Senator Hayes, a Brown Democrat. Rev. Dixon, a local minister, offered prayer, asking Divine guidance upon the deliberations of the senate.

Chairman Hayes then made a brief address, in which he pointed out that this was a session of the legislature of the gravest concern, and its deliberations should be transacted with the greatest concern.

The first business was the election of a president pro tem, in the absence of Lieutenant Governor Marshall, and Senator Jolly, of Hancock county, who was selected at the caucus, was elected. A. P. Dyche, of London, was elected secretary pro tem., and Frank Riley, of London, was made temporary page.

Resolutions of respect on the death of their colleague, Senator Goebel, were adopted, and the senate adjourned out of respect to his memory, to meet to-day at noon.

Judge Brown then swore in the officers elected.

Temporary Chairman Slack rapped the house to order, and Rev. Ewell, of the London Christian church, offered prayer. He said:

"May this legislature, in all its acts and efforts, be in the direction of peace on earth and good will toward men. We pray that honesty of purpose and strict integrity may guide the deliberations of all."

Chairman Slack then announced that owing to the absence of Speaker Trimble (Democrat) a speaker pro tem. must be selected. Representative Bethurum, from Rockcastle county, was chosen.

Circuit Court Judge Brown administered the oath of office to the speaker pro tem. Judge Faulkner, of Barnesville, was made secretary pro tem. and the house was ready for business. Resolutions deplored the death of William Goebel were adopted and then, out of respect, the house adjourned until to-day at noon. Members of the legislature said the adjournment would have been taken till Thursday noon out of respect to the memory of deceased Mr. Goebel, but the constitution states that when no quorum in either house is present, adjournment must be taken from one day till the next.

Of the 13 senators present, 11 were Republicans and two were Brown Democrats.

There are 12 straight Republicans in the senate, and if Senator Burnham arrives today, as expected, the number will be complete.

Senators Alexander and Gillespie, both Brown Democrats, and McConnell, Populist, were expected today. If they arrive, the Republican strength of the senate will be represented. The Republican strength in the house numbers 40. Of this number, 35 were present at the session Tuesday. Randolph, DeLong and Spurrier arrived last evening, McRoberts was expected today, and Harris, of Madison county, was detained by illness.

A telegram was received last night that Lieutenant Governor Marshall would be here today.

PUBLIC TO SHOW RESPECT.

Arrangements Made to Show Honor to Goebel's Memory, at Frankfort.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 7.—A meeting of Frankfort citizens was held at the courthouse and arrangements were made for public observation of the funeral of Governor Goebel.

All business people of the city were asked to close Thursday and drape their buildings in black. All bells of public institutions were ordered tolled during the funeral services. Hon. James A. Drew Scott presided over the meeting.

William J. Morgan, Jr., Dead.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 7.—William J. Morgan, Jr., vice president of the Morgan Lithographing company, and widely known in theatrical circles, is dead at his home, 1939 Euclid avenue, this city. Mr. Morgan had suffered from a long illness. He was 25 years old.

BOER RIGHT THREATENED.

MacDonald at Koppie's Dam, Near Magersfontein—Roberts' Offer to the Dutch.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—4:20 a. m.—Lord Roberts has caused to be distributed in the towns bordering upon the invaded colonial territory an invitation to Free Staters and Transvaalers to go into the desert, offering them good treatment and a restoration to their farms on the British occupation of republican territory.

Not a word has been received from the correspondents with General Butler for three days. It is as though Natal had been wiped off the map, excepting the telegram from Ladysmith, saying that the Poers are cannonading and that "fighting is going on."

General MacDonald, with 4,000 infantry, cavalry and artillery, threatened the Boer right at Koppie's dam, near Magersfontein. This is the first sign of activity on the part of Lord Methuen for some weeks past, and doubtless has relation to the movements of the British further east.

MODDER SPRUIT, Feb. 7.—The Pretoria corps discovered a party of British, from Ladysmith, entrenched at a railroad bridge, protecting a number of coones, who were cutting grass. A party of Boers dispatched to the scene was attacked from the trenches and all retreated except four, who, hiding, permitted the British to advance to within 50 yards, when they fired a volley, killing three men. This was seen from the British fort, which fired a shell and sent cavalry to assist the British. The Boers beat these back, killing two men.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The house of commons rejected Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice's amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne by 352 against the amendment to 139 in its favor.

NO DEFENSE FOR MOLINEUX.

His Case Rests on the Testimony of the Prosecution—His Attorney Bitterly Accused Cornish.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Counsel for Roland B. Molineux, charged with murdering Mrs. Katherine J. Adams by poison sent to Harry Cornish in December, 1898, took a bold and unexpected step, announcing that the defense would submit no evidence.

Weeks began his summing up. He spoke with great earnestness, and the jury listened to him intently. He told of his long personal friendship with Molineux and he attacked Harry Cornish bitterly. The tenor of his argument was that the proofs pointed more strongly to Harry Cornish as the murderer than to Molineux. Molineux's father, mother and wife were in court, a was also Cornish, who was visibly nervous.

Molineux seemed cool and collected.

ROCKEFELLER'S REASON.

Resigned Presidency of Ohio Company, to Keep Out of Anti-Trust Investigations.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—John D. Rockefeller has resigned the presidency of the Standard Oil company, of Ohio, one of the subsidiary companies of the trust, but he had not retired from his position in the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, now the main corporation.

He will be succeeded by Vice President A. M. McGregor, of the New Jersey company. The reasons for the change are said to be partly concern for Mr. Rockefeller's health and partly his desire to avoid being drawn into future investigations of the company's affairs such as that lately managed by Attorney General Monnett, of Ohio.

BARD TO BE U. S. SENATOR.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—Thomas R. Bard was elected United States senator to succeed Stephen M. White. In the senate the vote was as follows: Thomas R. Bard (Rep.), 26; James D. Phelan (Dem.), 10. In the assembly the vote stood: Bard, 59; Phelan, 20; White, 1. Bard was declared elected in both houses. Both houses will meet in joint session today to ratify the election of Bard.

THE DEWEYS TO ATTEND A BALL.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The board of aldermen unanimously passed a resolution, tendering the freedom of the city upon Admiral and Mrs. Dewey. They will attend the ball of the Emerald association in Brooklyn.

JUDGE TAFT MAY RULE

Likely First Civil Governor of Philippines.

MADE PRESIDENT OF COMMISSION.

Impression That He Will Be Head of the New Government, When Established, Because He Will Resign a Life Judgeship to Take Schurman's Place.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The appointment, by the president, of Judge William H. Taft, of Cincinnati, United States judge of the Sixth judicial circuit, to be president of the new Philippine commission, marks the first selection for the new Philippine commission.

There will be five members on the commission and all of them will be civilians.

Mr. Schurman, president of the existing commission, declined, for business reasons, to remain on the commission, so Judge Taft will be president in his place.

Mr. Denby and Prof. Worcester have been invited to accept reappointments, but so far have not signified their intentions. Admiral Dewey will not go back to Manila and General Otis will give way, like him, to a civilian.

Secretary Root said that no instructions had been framed for the new commission as yet, but it would be easy to perceive, from the sentiments set out in the president's message on the subject, what these instructions would be.

Judge Taft called at the war department in company with Judge Day, late secretary of state, and had a long talk with Secretary Root as to the plans for the commission. As some surprise has been caused by the willingness of Judge Taft to surrender a life position of the dignity and emolument of United States circuit judge to join the commission it may be said that the prevalent impression is that as soon as the commission shall have succeeded in replacing the existing military government in the Philippines with stable civil governments, Judge Taft will be named as first civil governor general of the archipelago.

It is not thought that this change will take place at once, but the commission is expected to move steadily toward that objective and to set up local civil governments as fast as the Filipinos shall demonstrate their worthiness.

Judge Taft's place on the bench will be filled by the appointment of Judge Henry F. Severs, of Grand Rapids, Mich.

STILL FIGHTING POLYGAMY.

Representatives of Different Sects Urge a Constitutional Prohibitory Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The rooms of the house committee on judiciary were crowded to overflowing with the representatives of many religious, missionary and social reform bodies, to urge the need of constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy.

Among those heard were Bishop Satterlee, Episcopal bishop of Washington; Rev. Dr. Hamlin, in behalf of the Presbyterian church; Dr. S. H. Green, of the Baptist church; Mrs. James, for the women's home missionary board of the Presbyterian church; Miss Jennie Ackerman, traveling representative of the W. C. T. U.; Judge W. M. Springer, of Indian Territory; Dr. John Dixon, of New York; Dr. L. A. Foote, of Brooklyn, and quite a number of others representing various denominations.

The addresses were strongly condemnatory of polygamy, and many of those engaged in missionary work in the west stated that the Mormon church was systematically propagating the doctrine of polygamy, despite all denials. The lady speakers appealed in particular for protection to the sanctity of the American home.

JONES' AMENDMENT TO CURRENCY BILL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, introduced an amendment to the currency bill now pending in the senate directing the secretary of the treasury to keep constantly on hand an emergency fund amounting to $50,000,000 of United States treasury notes, which may be issued to any citizen of the United States at a discount of 10 per cent in exchange for United States bonds, the bonds to be held for not to exceed a year and the holder to pay 6 per cent interest.

He Had Three Cases to Dispose Of.

WHITE WAS DRUNK AND ASLEEP

And Murphy and O'Neill, Pipe Liners, Disturbed the Serenity of East End by Using Bad Language--A Small Boy Tried to Commit Burglary.

William White was found drunk and sleeping on Union street last night. Officer Mahony arrested him and the mayor fined him $9.60. He paid up. White comes from Trenton and has only been here about two weeks.

John O'Neil and James Murphy, pipe-liners, created a disturbance in East End last night by getting drunk and using profane and abusive language. Officers Terrence and Wilson arrested them, and Mayor Boughey fined them $9.60 each. They didn't have the cash and are still in jail.

Officer White last evening arrested a small boy named Fred Malcolm Malcolm was seen by George Zink trying to effect an entrance to Trainor's meat shop.

Two Doses

of TONGALINE are usually enough to subdue the severest paroxysms of pain in neuralgic or rheumatic or gouty disease. Then, when the pain is gone and the sufferer has rest and strength-renewing sleep, further treatment with TONGALINE cures the disease, radically and permanently, by causing the body to throw off the poisons which caused the disturbance. No external application of lotion or liniment can secure a permanent cure. The cause of the disease must be reached by internal treatment.

This is exactly what TONGALINE does safely and effectively.

It will cure stubborn cases of rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, nervous and sick headache, la grippe, sciatica, lumbago, and similar diseases. It is always best to prevent disease, therefore TONGALINE should be taken when the first symptoms appear of rheumatic fever, neuralgic or rheumatic pains, &c. It is the most effective cure known for "spring fever," a dangerous condition in which the body is clogged with poisonous impurities. TONGALINE, by its power to throw off impurities, cleanses and renews life in every part of the body.

TONGALINE is safe to take. It contains no opium, no morphine, no dangerous narcotic of any kind. It has been tested for twenty years and has been praised in the highest terms by physicians and patients.

TONGALINE is sold by all druggists for $1.00 a bottle.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE

McLELLAN'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

SPLENDID SERMONS

Delivered by Rev. Williams at the Christian Church Revival Last Night.

Another excellent meeting was held at the Christian church last night. The interest in the meetings is greater now than at any time since they began.

A very good audience was present to enjoy a splendid sermon. Reverend Williams drew some excellent lessons from the parables, the lost sheep, the lost coin, the lost man. First picturing the sorrow of the shepherd over the lost sheep, of the woman over the lost coin and the father over the wandering boy, he showed how these were illustrative of the Heavenly Father's anxiety over sinning men and women. The joy over their restoration is applicable of the Father's love when a wanderer comes home. When the invitation was given five came forward, two with letters and three to make the confession. Baptisms will take place tonight.

ON THE RIVER.

Heavy Ice Passing and Navigation Will Soon be Resumed.

The Ohio river is expected to reach a 12 foot stage tomorrow. The Monongahela and Allegheny rivers are putting out a heavy flow of ice, behind which is plenty of water. All indications are favorable for the huge mass of ice to pass out without doing any serious damage unless a sudden heavy downpour of rain should develop, and then the damage would be great, as the rivermen have not prepared for a gorge. At the wharf today the marks showed eight feet and rising.

The packets will resume navigation as soon as the ice has passed out.

AGUINALDO may have pulled the hole in after him.

NOR even a rumor escapes Kitchener's censorship these days.

If arbitration can effect the settlement of the Kentucky political war, South Africa should be an easy mark for it.

THE total cost of the Spanish war to date is $355,000,000, of which the navy got $69,000,000 and the army $255,000,000.

This is a test as true in the United States today as it was in England in the days when Junius wrote. Mr. Sibley continued: "If this be a fair test of merit, then I believe President McKinley is entitled to the respect, confidence and support of every man who prefers the welfare of all classes of citizenship to the welfare of any portion thereof under party divisions."

WARREN, O., Dec. 7.—The directors of the Brewer Pottery and Clay Manufacturing company made its answer against W. M. ## LAWTON FUNERAL PARTY.

Left Indianapolis With the Body Today For Washington—Thousands Viewed the Remains.

Yesterday about 40,000 people viewed the remains, which lay in state in the capitol building.

In the morning Mrs. Senator Beveridge, who is ill at the home of her father, in this city, sent a box of flowers to Mrs. Lawton, with whom she became acquainted while in the Pampines. The flowers were accompanied by a letter.

Shortly after noon Mrs. Lawton, accompanied by her two sisters, drove to the home of Mrs. Beveridge, where they remained for some time.

During the morning, General and Mrs. Harrison called at the hotel to call upon Mrs. Lawton, but she had gone over to the capitol building to view the decorations. They followed her to the capitol, where they watched the stream of people passing through the building. Mrs. Lawton was overcome by the scene and left the building shortly after the procession started.

LAWTON FUNERAL PARTY.

Left Indianapolis With the Body Today For Washington—Thousands Viewed the Remains.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 7.—The Lawton funeral party left here this morning for Washington.

Yesterday about 40,000 people viewed the remains, which lay in state in the capitol building.

In the morning Mrs. Senator Beveridge, who is ill at the home of her father, in this city, sent a box of flowers to Mrs. Lawton, with whom she became acquainted while in the Pampines. The flowers were accompanied by a letter.

Shortly after noon Mrs. Lawton, accompanied by her two sisters, drove to the home of Mrs. Beveridge, where they remained for some time.

During the morning, General and Mrs. Harrison called at the hotel to call upon Mrs. Lawton, but she had gone over to the capitol building to view the decorations. They followed her to the capitol, where they watched the stream of people passing through the building. Mrs. Lawton was overcome by the scene and left the building shortly after the procession started.

"WITH BRAINS SIR!"

A great artist was once asked what he mixed his pigments with to obtain such wonderful effects. His reply was: "With brains, sir!"

This would be the real answer to hundreds of people who are all the time asking what Dr. Pierce's medicines are mixed with to produce such marvelous cures. These medicines are mixed with to produce such marvelous cures. These medicines are the result of Dr. Pierce's thorough professional education; his deep study of the principles of materia medica and of the human physiology in health and disease; and above all his unparalleled practical experience.

"I thank God for giving you wisdom and knowledge, and guiding you in making these medicines," says Mrs. H. A. Albrook of Austin, Texas, in an earnest letter to Dr. Pierce. "After five months of great suffering I write this for the benefit of other sufferers from the same afflictions. I doctored with our family physician without any good results, so my husband urged me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines—which I did, with wonderful results. I am completely cured. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of his

SHE WANTED GOLD.

Woman's Idea of the Money to Deposit in a Bank.

Most comical stories are told at the expense of the fair sex regarding their lack of familiarity with banks and their methods. One came to the ears of the Saunterer that apparently has the merit of newness.

"My wife had saved up her pin money, or what she hadn't had occasion to use of it," said the relator of the story, "until she had $40 in bills of various denominations. This she was extremely desirous of securing gold for, and every day when I came home to dinner she would haul me over the coals because I had forgotten to procure the shining metal. Finally she said she would attend to the matter herself. That evening she greeted me with a triumphant smile.

"I got my gold," she exclaimed as soon as I entered the house, "but I had a time in doing it, though."

"Then she told me how she had gone to the mint with her bills and been refused the coveted coin because the notes weren't good notes. Next she hustled around to a bank and secured four $10 gold pieces. These didn't suit her because they weren't new and shiny, so she trotted back to the mint with them and exchanged them for two double eagles, fresh from the dies. I listened to her recital and asked her to let me see the coins.

"Let you see them?" she exclaimed in surprise. "Why, I haven't them any more, you goose."

"Haven't them any more? I repeated. 'What did you do with them?'

"She looked at me with mingled scorn and contempt.

"I deposited them in the — Savings bank, of course. That's what I wanted the gold for. What did you think I was going to do with them? Keep them around the house to look at?"

"But I was too busy laughing just then and for half an hour afterward to make any reply."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE FORCE OF HABIT.

How It Once Played a Mean Trick on Frederick Villiers.

E. W. Sabel, in The Saturday Evening Post, tells an anecdote of Frederick Villiers, the famous war correspondent. Villiers had been under fire for some days, the enemy bombarding the force to which the artist was attached, so that the arrival of a shell was a commonplace circumstance to be treated in the usual way. Out of this ordeal he came unscathed to London and was strolling down the crowded Strand.

On a sudden the pedestrians were appalled to see him fling himself at full length upon the greasy, muddy pavement and there lie on his face, rigid as a dead man. From all directions men rushed to render him assistance. They turned him over to rub his hands and unbutton his collar, expecting to find him in a fit. But no. On his face they found not the pain and pallor of epilepsy, but astonishment and mud. Villiers, when they laid hold of him, quickly jumped to his feet, shook the mud from his hands and clothes and then looked around for an explanation of his own apparently idiotic act. The explanation was forthcoming.

A few yards behind him stood a horse and cart. The carter had a moment after Villiers passed pulled the pin and allowed the cart box to dump upon the ground a load of gravel. The heavy beams of the cart, of course, struck the wood paving with a resounding "dull thud," and the clean gravel hissed out with an evil roar. This combination of sounds, the war artist declared, was identical with the striking of a live shell, and Villiers, forgetting that he then stood some thousands of miles from the seat of war, automatically flung himself down to await the dreadful explosion.

He Got the Information.

An English paper tells this story of the late Joseph Whitaker, the publisher of Whitaker's Almanack: "For the first issue he wanted, along with similar information, the amount of the salaries received by a number of certain high functionaries in the civil service. Application to these personages themselves was uniformly met with only flat refusals. Accordingly the Almanack appeared with a list of the officials, each credited with a purely imaginary sum."

"The result was instantaneous. Hardly had the first edition come out before those whose salaries had been underrated were impelled by 'amour propre' to write indignant corrections, while the polite statements of the inland revenue authorities were similarly efficacious where the alleged amount was at all in excess of the actual income."

A Fortunate Mistake.

"There is a young man in Chicago," says a local physician, "who now has a good business and bright prospects who received his start in life by securing $4 that did not belong to him. I hardly know under what to class the incident of obtaining the money. I will let the story explain his actions.

"This young man arrived in Chicago one day without funds, but with plenty of nerve and push. He wanted money to secure a meal and pay his room rent until he could secure a position. Believing he could find some man who would help him if he told his story in a straightforward manner, he entered a cigar establishment in Dearborn street. He was about to explain his condition and ask for assistance until he could get a position when the proprietor looked up with a fierce scowl. He turned to his partner, and they held a consultation in a whisper for a few moments. 'Now, take this $4 and don't bother me about that bill again. That's all you will get, and now you can get out of this place in a hurry,' exclaimed the storekeeper.

"The young man was pushed toward the door with the money in his hand, and, try as he would, the storekeeper would not let him talk. Once in the street the bewildered fellow considered the matter in every detail and decided to keep the money. This he did, and a month or so later he again walked into the cigar store and told his story and returned the money."—Chicago News.

The Cult of Dirt.

"Dirt is a giant hard to fight in beautiful Ireland. The woman who had never heard of 'washin' a live wan' is, I think, equaled by another who came to me lately about her sore leg.

"They tell me, doctor, darlint, that washin' might scotch the heat out of it! But I wouldn't adventure to do it with out askin' your advice. Not for the worlds. I'm an ould woman now, doctor, dear, an a drop of water has never gone near my body."

"I advised a goodly supply of aqueous fluid, preceded by a thorough application of alkali and potash in the form of soap, and the old woman hobbed off quite satisfied with my scientific words.

"In Sallyboggin for years a certain old woman levied a weekly tribute on charitably disposed folk. All at once a 'nevvy' from America turned up, called on her 'patrons' and after thanking them for their kindness carried off his mother's sister to end her days in comfort. But the widow Hooligan—pronounced 'Hooligan'—did not lay her bones across the water. She soon reappeared. 'I couldn't stop in it, mistress, dear,' she explained to a lady. 'Me sister's son's a good bhoys, but, between ourselves, they would ha' washed me to death.'—Nineteenth Century.

She Had Her Way.

There is nothing like a determined spirit. As the old saying is, "What must be done can be done." The trouble with most of us is that our minds are only half made up.

A charming old lady called at a carpenter's shop the other day bearing in her hand a little basket.

"Have you a comfortable chair in the shop?" she asked of the carpenter.

"A comfortable chair?" he repeated doubtfully.

"Yes," she sweetly said. "I have come to stay until you have a man ready to go back to my house with me and do the work you have been promising to do for three weeks. I have brought my luncheon and a book, and if you haven't a comfortable chair I'll have the carriage cushions brought in. I'm going to stay here until I get that man."

The carpenter hastened to say that he could go at once just as well as not, and the old lady carried him away in triumph.

One Grateful Descendant.

"This," said the guide, "is the grave of Adam!"

Historic spot! With reverential awe—nay, with a feeling of deep thankfulness—the wealthy merchant tailor on his first trip to the orient drew near and cast a flower on the tomb.

"Erring ancestor," he murmured, "I should be the last man on earth to revile your memory. To your sin I owe my prosperity."—Chicago Tribune.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

The Market Showed General Characteristics of Strength and Breadth. Some Details of Operations.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The stock market retained its general characteristics Tuesday of strength and breadth. A large outside interest was manifest and the professional operators, who bought at the lower level, were busy in bidding up the prices of their holdings and in feeding the new demand to take their profits; but while selling stocks from the one hand to realize on the rise, they were taking on new holdings of different stocks with the other.

The progress of a bull movement almost inevitably results in the transfer of holdings from strong to weak hands and leaves the market vulnerable to attack by bear operators, who are able to force selling by lowering down prices and uncovering margins. Even Tuesday, attempts by bear operators were in evidence to force declines, but the general demand for stocks continued so good and the large holdings are still in such strong hands that the market resisted bear assaults and presented a hard and unyielding surface, even at points where realizing was going on.

Monday's strength in national steel gave way to rearing Tuesday, and the metal group of stocks was without any conspicuous leadership. Tennessee Coal was forced down at one time 3½ points. The bears centered their attack on sugar, and had that stock down at one time to 103½.

Rumors that the refineries were to shut down and overproduction to be worked off at a loss figured in the manipulation. But, in the meantime, aggressive buying movement developed in the trunk lines, led by Pennsylvania, in the coalers, led by Reading first preferred, on the decision to pay a dividend, and in the granges and westerns, led by St. Paul and Atchison, both common and preferred.

The closing of the market was active and strong at about the top.

The bond market showed increased activity and general strength. Total sales, par value, $3,625,000. United States 3s advanced ½ and the new 4s ¼ in the bid price.

ARGUMENT FROM A COMMERCIAL STANDPOINT AGAINST RETENTION OF PHILIPPINES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The Philippine question again occupied the attention of the house, with a slight digression concerning the war in South Africa. The feature of the debate was the speech of Mr. Williams (Miss.), who presented an argument against the annexation of the Philippines which attracted much attention. It was devoted almost entirely to the commercial aspect of the question, holding that the absorption of the islands would be ultimately ruinous to the American producers of cotton, rice, tobacco, hemp and sugar.

Mr. Morris (Minn.) made an exhaustive legal argument in support of the right to hold and govern the islands. The other speakers were Messrs. Gibson (Tenn.), W. A. and H. C. Smith (Mich.), Cochran (Mo.) and Neville (Neb.).

The general debate on the diplomatic bill closed, and today it will be taken up for amendment under the five-minute rule.

FINANCIAL BILL HOLDS SWAY.

IT WILL BE CONSIDERED EVERY DAY, TO THE EXCLUSION OF OTHER SUBJECTS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Until the financial measure now pending before the senate shall have been disposed of finally, it will be considered by the senate every legislative day, to the exclusion of all except purely routine business. This arrangement will have the effect of cutting off all debate on the Philippine question or other matters except by unanimous consent of the senate, unless senators choose to discuss other questions in the time they devote to the financial bill.

Mr. Caffery (La.) concluded his speech on the Philippine question, holding that the United States ought to restore in the island the status quo, and then confer independence upon the Filipinos.

Mr. Butler (N. C.) discussed at length the proposed amendment to the constitution of North Carolina, in answer to speeches delivered by Senators Morgan, McEnery and Money.

One of Harrison's Jokes.

"Benjamin Harrison once played a mean trick on me at Miami university," said William P. Fishback. "We boarded with a widow in Oxford, and there came to be a discontent among the boys about the food not being sufficiently generous in supply. A meeting was held in Harrison's room to arrange a formal protest. Lots were cast as to who should present the case at the breakfast table. The ballot box was stuffed, and I was elected. I spoke at the breakfast table and stated that the boys objected to paying so much for so scant a meal. I expected to be supported by the others.

"Benjamin Harrison spoke and, to my dismay, said: 'We don't know how Mr. Fishback has been living at home—he may have been a pampered son of luxury—but, as for the rest of us, we have no complaint to make.'

"And that disposition of fun and humor never left Benjamin Harrison."

Settlement In Kentucky Depends on His Decision.

PROMISED TO ANNOUNCE IT TODAY.

Gave Out an Interview, Saying That If Assured Kentucky Would Have a Just Election Law, He Would Be Willing to Retire—Advised to Do So.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 7.—Whether it shall be war or peace in Kentucky rests with Governor Taylor alone. He declared that he would announce his decision today.

"I wish to see my attorneys," he said, "and to consult with them about certain forms of the agreement before I announce my intention. I will not say what I intend to do until after I have obtained legal advice."

A consultation of the attorneys was afterward held in Governor Taylor's office.

The text of the agreement reached by the Louisville conference was brought to him by a committee consisting of General Dan Lindsay, T. H. Baker and T. L. Edelin. They handed Governor Taylor a copy of the agreement, were closeted with him a short time and then departed. As they left the building Mr. Baker remarked: "I hope and believe that the entire matter will be amicably adjusted. More than this I am unable to say at the present time."

General Lindsay and Mr. Edelin spoke in similar terms, and while all expressed themselves as reasonably confident that Governor Taylor would acquiesce in the terms of the agreement, they all desired to be understood as saying that they had no authoritative reason from Governor Taylor for entertaining the belief they expressed.

Before he had received a copy of the agreement, Governor Taylor discussed the conditions as he understood them to be before receiving official notice, and said:

"Under no circumstances will I discuss the agreement before a copy of it has reached me. It would be most unfair and most discourteous for me to do so. Speaking generally, however, I would say that if an agreement can be made by which an election law will be given to the people of Kentucky through the operation of which a fair election and an honest count are assured to the citizens of this state, no personal ambition of mine will be allowed to stand in the way."

One of the attorneys, who has been prominent on the Republican side in the contest cases, and who therefore does not wish his name used in connection with an interview, said:

"It is, in my opinion, the duty of Governor Taylor to sign the agreement. If he does not, he will lose greatly in standing in his own party. I know that he will do what he believes to be right and best for the welfare of the state. It seems to me that under the circumstances there can hardly be two opinions as to what his course must be."

Senator Blackburn expressed himself as being confident that the entire trouble would be settled peacefully.

"It is entirely natural," he said, "that the other side should wish to take time to consider the agreement, and to prepare its statement to be issued at the same time the signature is affixed. I have no knowledge of what will be done, but I firmly believe that the agreement will be accepted substantially as adopted by the members of the Louisville conference, and that all chance of trouble will be avoided."

When asked for his opinion of the consequences should Governor Taylor decline to accept the agreement, Senator Blackburn said: "That is a question I do not care to discuss nor even to think about. If no settlement is made now, it will lead to endless complications before the end is reached."

Republican Legislators, at London, Ad-journed, Owing to His Assassination. Chaplains Prayed For Guidance.

LONDON, Ky., Feb. 7.—The Kentucky legislature met in the little two-story, brick Laurel county seminary building, which was stood upon a knoll, in the outskirts of London, for a most 50 years.

The 13 members who constituted the senate, which was held in the upper chamber, had plenty of room, but the 35 representatives in the session of the house on the ground floor were considerably crowded, some of them being forced to stand. The senators were called to order by Senator Hayes, a Brown Democrat. Rev. Dixon, a local minister, offered prayer, asking Divine guidance upon the deliberations of the senate.

Chairman Hayes then made a brief address, in which he pointed out that this was a session of the legislature of the gravest concern, and its deliberations should be transacted with the greatest concern.

The first business was the election of a president pro tem., in the absence of Lieutenant Governor Marshall, and Senator Jolly, of Hancock county, who was selected at the caucus, was elected. A. P. Dyche, of London, was elected secretary pro tem., and Frank Riley, of London, was made temporary page.

Resolutions of respect on the death of their colleague, Senator Goebel, were adopted, and the senate adjourned out of respect to his memory, to meet today, at noon.

Judge Brown then swore in the officers elected.

Temporary Chairman Slack rapped the house to order, and Rev. Ewell, of the London Christian church, offered prayer. He said:

"May this legislature, in all its acts and efforts, be in the direction of peace on earth and good will toward men. We pray that honesty of purpose and strict integrity may guide the deliberations of all."

Chairman Slack then announced that owing to the absence of Speaker Trimble (Democrat) a speaker pro tem. must be selected. Representative Bethurum, from Rockcastle county, was chosen.

Circuit Court Judge Brown administered the oath of office to the speaker pro tem. Judge Faulkner, of Barnesville, was made secretary pro tem. and the house was ready for business. Resolutions deplored the death of William Goebel were adopted and then, out of respect, the house adjourned until today at noon. Members of the legislature said the adjournment would have been taken till Thursday noon out of respect to the memory of deceased Mr. Goebel, but the constitution states that when no quorum in either house is present, adjournment must be taken from one day till the next.

Of the 13 senators present, 11 were Republicans and two were Brown Democrats.

There are 13 straight Republicans in the senate, and if Senator Burnham arrives today, as expected, the number will be complete.

Senators Alexander and Gillespie, both Brown Democrats, and McConnell, Populist, were expected today. If they arrive, the Republican strength of the senate will be represented. The Republican strength in the house numbers 40. Of this number, 35 were present at the session Tuesday. Randolph, Delong and Spurrier arrived last evening, Mr. Roberts was expected today, and Harris, of Madison county, was detained by illness.

A telegram was received last night that Lieutenant Governor Marshall would be here today.

BOER RIGHT THREATENED.

MacDonald at Koppie's Dam, Near Magersfontein—Roberts' Offer to the Dutch.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—4:20 a. m.—Lord Roberts has caused to be distributed in the towns bordering upon the invaded colonial territory an invitation to Free Staters and Transvaalers to go into the desert, offering them good treatment and a restoration to their farms on the British occupation of republican territory.

Not a word has been received from the correspondents with General Buller for three days. It is as though Natal had been wiped off the map, excepting the telegram from Ladysmith, saying that the Poers are cannonading and that "fighting is going on."

General MacDonald, with 4,000 infantry, cavalry and artillery, threatened the Boer right at Koppie's dam, near Magersfontein. This is the first sign of activity on the part of Lord Methuen for some weeks past, and doubtless has relation to the movements of the British further east.

MODDER SPRUIT, Feb. 7.—The Pretoria corps discovered a party of British, from Ladysmith, entrenched at a railroad bridge, protecting a number of coones, who were cutting grass. A party of Boers dispatched to the scene was attacked from the trenches and all retreated except four, who, hiding, permitted the British to advance to within 50 yards, when they fired a volley, killing three men. This was seen from the British fort, which fired a shell and sent cavalry to assist the British. The Boers beat these back, killing two men.

British Government Sustained.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The house of commons rejected Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice's amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne by 352 against the amendment to 139 in its favor.

NO DEFENSE FOR MOLINEUX.

His Case Rests on the Testimony of the Prosecution—His Attorney Bitterly Accused Cornish.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Counsel for Roland B. Molineux, charged with murdering Mrs. Katherine J. Adams by poison sent to Harry Cornish in December, 1898, took a bold and unexpected step, announcing that the defense would submit no evidence.

Weeks began his summing up. He spoke with great earnestness, and the jury listened to him intently. He told of his long personal friendship with Molineux and he attacked Harry Cornish bitterly. The tenor of his argument was that the proofs pointed more strongly to Harry Cornish as the murderer than to Molineux. Molineux's father, mother and wife were in court, a was also Cornish, who was visibly nervous.

Molineux seemed cool and collected.

ROCKEFELLER'S REASON.

Resigned Presidency of Ohio Company,
to Keep Out of Anti-Trust
Investigations.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—John D. Rockefeller has resigned the presidency of the Standard Oil company, of Ohio, one of the subsidiary companies of the trust, but he had not retired from his position in the Standard Oil company, of New Jersey, now the main corporation.

He will be succeeded by Vice President A. M. McGregor, of the New Jersey company. The reasons for the change are said to be partly concern for Mr. Rockefeller's health and partly his desire to avoid being drawn into future investigations of the company's affairs such as that lately managed by Attorney General Monnett, of Ohio.

Bard to Be U. S. Senator.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—Thomas R. Bard was elected United States senator to succeed Stephen M. White. In the senate the vote was as follows: Thomas R. Bard (Rep.), 26; James D. Phelan (Dem.), 10. In the assembly the vote stood: Bard, 59; Phelan, 20; White, 1. Bard was declared elected in both houses. Both houses will meet in joint session today to ratify the election of Bard.

The Deweys to Attend a Ball.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The board of aldermen unanimously passed a resolution, tendering the freedom of the city upon Admiral and Mrs. Dewey. They will attend the ball of the Emerald association in Brooklyn.

MADE PRESIDENT OF COMMISSION.

Impression That He Will Be Head of the New Government, When Established,
Because He Will Resign a Life Judgeship to Take Schurman's Place.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The appointment, by the president, of Judge William H. Taft, of Cincinnati, United States judge of the Sixth judicial circuit, to be president of the new Philippine commission, marks the first selection for the new Philippine commission.

There will be five members on the commission and all of them will be civilians. Mr. Schurman, president of the existing commission, declined, for business reasons, to remain on the commission, so Judge Taft will be president in his place. Mr. Denby and Prof. Worcester have been invited to accept reappointments, but so far have not signified their intentions. Admiral Dewey will not go back to Manila and General Otis will give way, like him, to a civilian. Secretary Root said that no instructions had been framed for the new commission as yet, but it would be easy to perceive, from the sentiments set out in the president's message on the subject, what these instructions would be.

Judge Taft called at the war department in company with Judge Day, late secretary of state, and had a long talk with Secretary Root as to the plans for the commission. As some surprise has been caused by the willingness of Judge Taft to surrender a life position of the dignity and emolument of United States circuit judge to join the commission it may be said that the prevalent impression is that as soon as the commission shall have succeeded in replacing the existing military government in the Philippines with stable civil governments, Judge Taft will be named as first civil governor general of the archipelago. It is not thought that this change will take place at once, but the commission is expected to move steadily toward that objective and to set up local civil governments as fast as the Filipinos shall demonstrate their worthiness.

STILL FIGHTING POLYGAMY.

Representatives of Different Sects Urge a Constitutional Prohibitory Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The rooms of the house committee on judiciary were crowded to overflowing with the representatives of many religious, missionary and social reform bodies, to urge the need of constitutional amendment prohibiting polygamy.

Among those heard were Bishop Satler, Episcopal bishop of Washington; Rev. Dr. Hamlin, in behalf of the Presbyterian church; Dr. S. H. Green, of the Baptist church; Mrs. Janes, for the women's home missionary board of the Presbyterian church; Miss Jennie Ackerman, traveling representative of the W. C. T. U.; Judge W. M. Springer, of Indian Territory; Dr. John Dixon, of New York; Dr. L. A. Foote, of Brooklyn, and quite a number of others representing various denominations.

The addresses were strongly condemnatory of polygamy, and many of those engaged in missionary work in the west stated that the Mormon church was systematically propagating the doctrine of polygamy, despite all denials. The lady speakers appealed in particular for protection to the sanctity of the American home.

Jones' Amendment to Currency Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, introduced an amendment to the currency bill now pending in the senate directing the secretary of the treasury to keep constantly on hand an emergency fund amounting to $50,000,000 of United States treasury notes, which may be issued to any citizen of the United States at a discount of 10 per cent in exchange for United States bonds, the bonds to be held for not to exceed a year and the holder to pay 5 per cent interest.

of TONGALINE are usually enough to subdue the severest paroxysms of pain in neuralgic or rheumatic or gouty disease. Then, when the pain is gone and the sufferer has rest and strength-renewing sleep, further treatment with TONGALINE cures the disease, radically and permanently, by causing the body to throw off the poisons which caused the disturbance. No external application of lotion or liniment can secure a permanent cure. The cause of the disorder must be reached by internal treatment.

This is exactly what TONGALINE does safely and effectively.

TRADE MARK Tongaline

It will cure stubborn cases of rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, nervous and sick headache, la grippe, sciatica, lumbago, and similar diseases. It is always best to prevent disease, therefore TONGALINE should be taken when the first symptoms appear of rheumatic fever, neuralgic or rheumatic pains, &c. It is the most effective cure known for "spring fever," a dangerous condition in which the body is clogged with poisonous impurities. TONGALINE, by its power to throw off impurities, cleanses and renews life in every part of the body.

TONGALINE is safe to take. It contains no opium, no morphine, no dangerous narcotic of any kind. It has been tested for twenty years and has been praised in the highest terms by physicians and patients.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last I tried it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

MELLIER'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

She Did Die Quick.

Miss Jennie Lee, the famous English actress, was once playing "Jo" in Scotland. She was in the midst of the long and harrowing death scene of poor Jo. The stage was darkened, and the limelight illuminated the pale features of the death stricken boy. People were sobbing all over the house.

Suddenly, to her consternation, Miss Lee heard the limelight man address her in a brawny Scotch whisper, audible to half the house.

"Die quick, Miss Lee; die quick" he roared softly. "The limelight's gin out!"

She did die quick, but it was for the purpose of making a speech to that limelight man which he said he would never forget.

SPLENDID SERMONS

Delivered by Rev. Williams at the Christian Church Revival Last Night.

Another excellent meeting was held at the Christian church last night. The interest in the meetings is greater now than at any time since they began.

A very good audience was present to enjoy a splendid sermon. Reverend Williams drew some excellent lessons from the parables, the lost sheep, the lost coin, the lost man. First picturing the sorrow of the shepherd over the lost sheep, of the woman over the lost coin and the father over the wandering boy, he showed how these were illustrative of the Heavenly Father's anxiety over sinning men and women. The joy over their restoration is applicable of the Father's love when a wanderer comes home. When the invitation was given five came forward, two with letters and three to make the confession. Baptisms will take place tonight.

FRIDAY LIVERPOOL, O. WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7.

FOR PRESIDENT--Second Term.
WM. MCKINLEY,
of Ohio.

AGUINALDO may have pulled the hole in after him.

NOT even a rumor escapes Kitchener's censorship these days.

If arbitration can effect the settlement of the Kentucky political war, South Africa should be an easy mark for it.

THE total cost of the Spanish war to date is $355,000,000, of which the navy got $69,000,000 and the army $255,000,000.

AS AN Ohio man President McKinley knew where to come for a head for the Philippine commission. Judge Taft is from Cincinnati.

INVESTORS.
If you have any stock that is paying you 22 per cent, interest keep your eyes on it; for fear the principal gets away.

THE WAR GOES ON.
The vote of 352 to 139 in the English house of commons sustaining the government's policy, shows the determination of the English people to press the South African war to the bitter end.

THE TRUE TEST.
Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, in his letter to his constituents saying he would be a candidate for re-election as a Republican, quoted from the letters of Junius: "The merits of a ministry or administration may be best determined by observing the condition of the people." This is a test as true in the United States today as it was in England in the days when Junius wrote. Mr. Sibley continued: "If this be a fair test of merit, then I believe President McKinley is entitled to the respect, confidence and support of every man who prefers the welfare of all classes of citizenship to the welfare of any portion thereof under party divisions."

MISS ALLIE LAUGHLIN.
Music lovers of the city of East Liverpool should give Miss Laughlin a royal reception at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night. The young lady has made a host of friends in this city by her readiness to assist any and every entertainment which had for its object the assistance of sweet Charity, and her services have been on the basis of "without money and without price." Citizens of East Liverpool will delight to do her honor. She has been the recipient, at the hands of some generous and unknown donor, of a scholarship in a famous New York musical institute, and has the promise of a bright future in the profession she loves so well. Show your appreciation of our young townswoman by being present at the Grand tomorrow night. Miss Fuhrer, a charming elocutionist, and Mr. Parsons, a famous singer, will appear at Miss Laughlin's

BOTH ASK RECEIVERS.

Disagreement In Warren Jug Factory Now Being Ventilated In Court.

WARREN, O., Dec. 7.—The directors of the Brewer Pottery and Clay Manufacturing company made its answer against W. M. Brewer, who is seeking for the appointment of a receiver, on Tuesday, in which they deny that the company is insolvent. In answer the petition states that W. M. Brewer made certain statements as to his abilities and experience as a manufacturing potter, but that he has failed to deliver the goods, and has caused a vast expenditure of money without visible financial returns.

For the best interests of the company the directors also ask for a temporary receiver. The plaintiff asks for the appointment of Attorney C. D. Gibbons, of Cleveland, and the defendants M. W. Brownlee, president of the company.

Opposes Them.

Superintendent J. E. Morris, of the Alliance public schools, is the first prominent educator of the state to come out publicly in opposition to the scheme of having state normal schools in Ohio. An article from his pen appears in the February number of the Ohio Educational Monthly.

Population Increasing.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conkle, Mulberry alley, a son.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Laughlin, Minerva street, a son.

Able to be Out.

Manager Frank Swaney, of the telephone office, is able to be out after being confined to his home for several days on account of illness.

An Auditor Here.

T. C. Wynn, traveling auditor of the Armour Packing company, was in the city this morning on business.

One Woman's Ruling Passion.

"There goes a woman," said the girl, "who hasn't a thought on earth except dress. I know that superior man attributes this particular weakness to all women—but it's a canard, as of course are nine out of ten of male estimators of women."

Sue conquered a refractory button on her glove before she continued: "But that woman who pissed us is, without doubt, the most dress crazy woman I have ever met. She knows no topic save dress—can speak of no other subject. She spends one half of her time at her dressmaker's, and the other half is used in exploiting the handicraft of the modiste. Goodness only knows when she manages to get anything to eat. She's dead to every feeling, I believe, except that which has to do with dress. And what do you think she said Saturday? I met her as we were going out of a house of mourning. A young woman whom we both knew had died, and we had been at the funeral. Coming down the steps I noticed my friend, but the feeling of sorrow was too fresh upon me to permit anything more than a nod of recognition. For half a square we walked side by side. Then I said, 'Poor, dear Clara—alive and well one week ago, and now—and she's gone!'"

"Yes," answered my friend blandly, "but wasn't she dressed beautifully? Really, it was a treat to see her!"—Philadelphia Press.

Pessimism Checked.

"No," he complained, "I have never succeeded in getting anything for nothing. I have always had to strive hard for everything that has come to me!"

"What about the mumps you had last winter?" his wife interrupted.—Chicago Times-Herald.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 7.—The remains of Major Logan lay in state here today, in St. John's Episcopal church, under a guard of honor from the Logan rifles, of which Major Logan was formerly captain. The funeral occurred at 2 o'clock, with interment in the Andrews mausoleum, in Oak Hill cemetery.

The special train bearing the body of the late Major John A. Logan arrived over the Baltimore and Ohio about 10 a.m. Tuesday. The body was removed from the car to a hearse, in waiting, and escorted by the family and relatives and Company H, Seventh United States Infantry, Captain George Young commanding, to St. John's Episcopal church.

Major Logan was also captain of this organization for several years. Its official title is Company H, Fifth infantry.

Other companies of the regiment attended, one from Cleveland, one from Ravenna and one from Warren. There are 50 men in each company. This, with the 90 men composing the regiments here, made a great military display.

The column moved in the following order. First, chief marshal and aides; band of the Seventh regiment infantry, United States army; Company H, Seventh regiment infantry, United States army; Provisional battalion, Fifth regiment infantry, Ohio national guard; clergy; honorary pallbearers, funeral car and actual pallbearers; Major John A. Logan's relatives and friends; ex-members of the Logan Rifles; field and staff officers Fifth regiment infantry, Ohio national guard; delegates of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee; Grand Army of the Republic; Union Veteran Legion; Spanish-American War Veterans; Loggia Colombo society; city officials and citizens.

The officers of Company H, Seventh regiment, are quartered at the Tod House. Captain Young, in command, was a personal friend of Major Logan, and the dead man's relatives are peculiarly gratified that he should have been detailed to attend.

The honorary pallbearers at the function today were: Messrs. H. K. Wick, H. M. Garlick, Henry Bonnell, W. F. Bonnell, Frank Hitchcock, C. H. Booth, Dr. A. M. Clark, P. ## LAWTON FUNERAL PARTY.

During the morning, General and Mrs. Harrison called at the hotel to call upon Mrs. Lawton, but she had gone over to the capitol building to view the decorations. ## SUFFERING IN CHINA.

The Rev. Hunter Corbett Appeals For Help For People In Che-Foo District.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Consul Fowler, at Che Foo, has transmitted to the state department a copy of a letter from the Rev. Dr. Hunter Corbett, depicting the deplorable condition of affairs in the country near Che Foo. The consul says this is not the region covered by last year's floods, but that country is also in a bad way. There is a good market for corn, and for mixed flour, which he has been told was cheaper than corn.

The minister says that food prices are higher than they have been for 30 years past. This is owing, first, to a drought for nine or ten months, then an army of caterpillars, then a hail storm, and then another drought. The greatest distress is said to prevail; there is much sickness among the half starved people, and many must die unless they secure help.

This would be the real answer to hundreds of people who are all the time asking what Dr. Pierce's medicines are mixed with to produce such marvelous cures. These medicines are the result of Dr. Pierce's thorough professional education; his deep study of the principles of materia medica and of the human physiology in health and disease; and above all his unparalleled practical experience.

"I thank God for giving you wisdom and knowledge, and guiding you in making these medicines," says Mrs. H. A. Alisbrook of Austin, Lonoke Co., Ark., in an earnest letter to Dr. Pierce. "After five months of great suffering I write this for the benefit of other sufferers from the same afflictions. I doctored with our family physician without any good results, so my husband urged me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines—which I did, with wonderful results. I am completely cured. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pills.'"

There is no medicine in the world that has helped and cured so many weak and ailing women, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It was devised solely for that purpose by one of America's most eminent specialists in this particular field of medical practice. Any woman may write to Dr. Pierce for advice which will be sent confidentially and absolutely free of charge.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent for the mere cost of mailing; paper-bound for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. It is a grand and useful book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. A. L. Frazer Mainly Conducted the Church Services—Company H, of the Seventh United States Infantry, With Regimental Band, in the Parade.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 7.—The remains of Major Logan lay in state here today, in St. John's Episcopal church, under a guard of honor from the Logan rifles, of which Major Logan was formerly captain. The funeral occurred at 2 o'clock, with interment in the Andrews mausoleum, in Oak Hill cemetery.

The special train bearing the body of the late Major John A. Logan arrived over the Baltimore and Ohio at 10 a.m. Tuesday. The body was removed from the car to a hearse, in waiting, and escorted by the family and relatives and Company H, Seventh United States Infantry, Captain George Young commanding, to St. John's Episcopal church.

Major Logan was also captain of this organization for several years. Its official title is Company H, Fifth infantry.

Other companies of the regiment attended, one from Cleveland, one from Ravenna and one from Warren. There are 50 men in each company. This, with the 90 men composing the regulars here, made a great military display.

LAWTON FUNERAL PARTY.

Left Indianapolis With the Body Today For Washington—Thousands Viewed the Remains.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 7.—The Lawton funeral party left here this morning for Washington.

Yesterday about 40,000 people viewed the remains, which lay in state in the capitol building.

In the morning Mrs. Senator Beveridge, who is ill at the home of her father, in this city, sent a box of flowers to Mrs. Lawton, with whom she became acquainted while in the Philippines. The flowers were accompanied by a letter.

Shortly after noon Mrs. Lawton, accompanied by her two sisters, drove to the home of Mrs. Beveridge, where they remained for some time.

During the morning, General and Mrs. Harrison called at the hotel to call upon Mrs. Lawton, but she had gone over to the capitol building to view the decorations. They followed her to the capitol, where they watched the stream of people passing through the building. Mrs. Lawton was overcome by the scene and left the building shortly after the procession started.

SUFFERING IN CHINA.

The Rev. Hunter Corbett Appeals For Help For People In Che-Foo District.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Consul Fowler, at Che Foo, has transmitted to the state department a copy of a letter from the Rev. Dr. Hunter Corbett, depicting the deplorable condition of affairs in the country near Che Foo.

The consul says this is not the region covered by last year's floods, but that country is also in a bad way. There is a good market for corn, and for mixed flour, which he has been told was cheaper than corn.

The minister says that food prices are higher than they have been for 30 years past. This is owing, first, to a drought for nine or ten months, then an army of caterpillars, then a hail storm, and then another drought. The greatest distress is said to prevail; there is much sickness among the half starved people, and many must die unless they secure help.

SHE WANTED GOLD.

One Woman's Idea of the Money to Deposit in a Bank.

Most comical stories are told at the expense of the fair sex regarding their lack of familiarity with banks and their methods. One came to the ears of the Saunterer that apparently has the merit of newness.

"My wife had saved up her pin money, or what she hadn't had occasion to use of it," said the relator of the story, "until she had $40 in bills of various denominations. This she was extremely desirous of securing gold for, and every day when I came home to dinner she would haul me over the coals because I had forgotten to procure the shining metal. Finally she said she would attend to the matter herself. That evening she greeted me with a triumphant smile.

"'I got my gold,' she exclaimed as soon as I entered the house, 'but I had a time in doing it, though.'

"Then she told me how she had gone to the mint with her bills and been refused the coveted coin because the notes weren't good notes. Next she hustled around to a bank and secured four $10 gold pieces. These didn't suit her because they weren't new and shiny, so she trotted back to the mint with them and exchanged them for two double eagles, fresh from the dies. I listened to her recital and asked her to let me see the coins.

"'Let you see them!' she exclaimed in surprise. 'Why, I haven't them any more, you goose.'

"'Haven't them any more?' I repeated. 'What did you do with them?'

"She looked at me with mingled scorn and contempt.

"I deposited them in the — Savings bank, of course. That's what I wanted the gold for. What did you think I was going to do with them? Keep them around the house to look at?

"But I was too busy laughing just then and for half an hour afterward to make any reply."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE FORCE OF HABIT.

How It Once Played a Mean Trick on Frederick Villiers.

E. W. Sabel, in The Saturday Evening Post, tells an anecdote of Frederick Villiers, the famous war correspondent. Villiers had been under fire for some days, the enemy bombarding the force to which the artist was attached, so that the arrival of a shell was a commonplace circumstance to be treated in the usual way. Out of this ordeal he came unscathed to London and was strolling down the crowded Strand.

On a sudden the pedestrians were appalled to see him fling himself at full length upon the greasy, muddy pavement and there lie on his face, rigid as a dead man. From all directions men rushed to render him assistance. They turned him over to rub his hands and unbutton his collar, expecting to find him in a fit. But no. On his face they found not the pain and pallor of epilepsy, but astonishment and mud. Villiers, when they laid hold of him, quickly jumped to his feet, shook the mud from his hands and clothes and then looked around for an explanation of his own apparently idiotic act. The explanation was forthcoming.

A few yards behind him stood a horse and cart. The carter had a moment after Villiers passed pulled the pin and allowed the cart box to dump upon the ground a load of gravel. The heavy beams of the cart, of course, struck the wood paving with a resounding "dull thud," and the clean gravel hissed out with an evil roar. This combination of sounds, the war artist declared, was identical with the striking of a live shell, and Villiers, forgetting that he then stood some thousands of miles from the seat of war, automatically flung himself down to await the dreadful explosion.

He Got the Information.

An English paper tells this story of the late Joseph Whitaker, the publisher of Whitaker's Almanack: "For the first issue he wanted, along with similar information, the amount of the salaries received by a number of certain high functionaries in the civil service.

Application to these personages themselves was uniformly met with only flat refusals. Accordingly the Almanack appeared with a list of the officials, each credited with a purely imaginary sum.

"The result was instantaneous. Hardly had the first edition come out before those whose salaries had been underrated were impelled by 'amour propre' to write indignant corrections, while the polite statements of the inland revenue authorities were similarly efficacious where the alleged amount was at all in excess of the actual income."

A Fortunate Mistake.

"There is a young man in Chicago," says a local physician, "who now has a good business and bright prospects who received his start in life by securing $4 that did not belong to him. I hardly know under what to class the incident of obtaining the money. I will let the story explain his actions.

"This young man arrived in Chicago one day without funds, but with plenty of nerve and push. He wanted money to secure a meal and pay his room rent until he could secure a position. Believing he could find some man who would help him if he told his story in a straightforward manner, he entered a cigar establishment in Dearborn street. He was about to explain his condition and ask for assistance until he could get a position when the proprietor looked up with a fierce scowl. He turned to his partner, and they held a consultation in a whisper for a few moments. 'Now, take this $4 and don't bother me about that bill again. That's all you will get, and now you can get out of this place in a hurry,' exclaimed the storekeeper.

"The young man was pushed toward the door with the money in his hand, and, try as he would, the storekeeper would not let him talk. Once in the street the bewildered fellow considered the matter in every detail and decided to keep the money. This he did, and a month or so later he again walked into the cigar store and told his story and returned the money."—Chicago News.

The Cult of Dirt.

"Dirt is a giant hard to fight in beautiful Ireland. The woman who had never heard of 'washin a live wan' is, I think, equaled by another who came to me lately about her sore leg.

"They tell me, doctor, darlint, that washin might scotch the heat out of it! But I wouldn't adventure to do it with out askin your advice. Not for the worlds. I'm an ould woman now, doctor, dear, an a drop of water has never gone near my body."

"I advised a goodly supply of aqueous fluid, preceded by a thorough application of alkali and potash in the form of soap, and the old woman hobbed off quite satisfied with my scintillating words.

"In Sallyboggan for years a certain old woman levied a weekly tribute on charitably disposed folk. All at once a 'nevy' from America turned up, called on her 'patrons' and after thanking them for their kindness carried off his mother's sister to end her days in comfort. But the widow Hooligan—pronounced 'Hooll'han'—did not lay her bones across the water. She soon reappeared. 'I couldn't stop in it, mistress, dear,' she explained to a lady. 'Me sister's son's a good boy, but, between ourselves, they would ha' washed me to death.'—Nineteenth Century.

She Had Her Way.

There is nothing like a determined spirit. As the old saying is, "What must be done can be done." The trouble with most of us is that our minds are only half made up.

A charming old lady called at a carpenter's shop the other day bearing in her hand a little basket.

"Have you a comfortable chair in the shop?" she asked of the carpenter.

"A comfortable chair?" he repeated doubtfully.

"Yes," she sweetly said. "I have come to stay until you have a man ready to go back to my house with me and do the work you have been promising to do for three weeks. I have brought my luncheon and a book, and if you haven't a comfortable chair I'll have the carriage cushions brought in. I'm going to stay here until I get that man."

The carpenter hastened to say that he could go at once just as well as not, and the old lady carried him away in triumph.

One Grateful Descendant.

"This," said the guide, "is the grave of Adam."

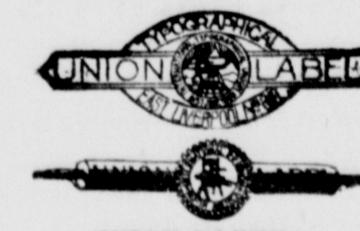

Historic spot! With reverential awe—nay, with a feeling of deep thankfulness—the wealthy merchant tailor on his first trip to the orient drew near and cast a flower on the tomb.

"Erring ancestor," he murmured, "I should be the last man on earth to revile your memory. To your sin I owe my prosperity."—Chicago Tribune.

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILOR'S LABEL.

The Journeyman Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

The label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeshops. Following is the confectioners' and cracker label:

SHE WANTED GOLD.

One Woman's Idea of the Money to Deposit In a Bank.

Most comical stories are told at the expense of the fair sex regarding their lack of familiarity with banks and their methods. One came to the ears of the Saunterer that apparently has the merit of newness.

"My wife had saved up her pin money, or what she hadn't had occasion to use of it," said the relator of the story, "until she had $40 in bills of various denominations. This she was extremely desirous of securing gold for, and every day when I came home to dinner she would haul me over the coals because I had forgotten to procure the shining metal. Finally she said she would attend to the matter herself. That evening she greeted me with a triumphant smile.

"I got my gold," she exclaimed as soon as I entered the house, "but I had a time in doing it, though."

"Then she told me how she had gone to the mint with her bills and been refused the coveted coin because the notes weren't good notes. Next she hustled around to a bank and secured four $10 gold pieces. These didn't suit her because they weren't new and shiny, so she trotted back to the mint with them and exchanged them for two double eagles, fresh from the dies. I listened to her recital and asked her to let me see the coins.

"Let you see them?" she exclaimed in surprise. "Why, I haven't them any more, you goose!"

"Haven't them any more? I repeated. "What did you do with them?"

"She looked at me with mingled scorn and contempt.

"I deposited them in the — Savings bank, of course. That's what I wanted the gold for. What did you think I was going to do with them? Keep them around the house to look at?"

"But I was too busy laughing just then and for half an hour afterward to make any reply."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE FORCE OF HABIT.

How It Once Played a Mean Trick on Frederick Villiers.

E. W. Sabel, in the Saturday Evening Post, tells an anecdote of Frederick Villiers, the famous war correspondent. Villiers had been under fire for some days, the enemy bombarding the force to which the artist was attached, so that the arrival of a shell was a commonplace circumstance to be treated in the usual way. Out of this ordeal he came unscathed to London and was strolling down the crowded Strand.

On a sudden the pedestrians were appalled to see him fling himself at full length upon the greasy, muddy pavement and there lie on his face, rigid as a dead man. From all directions men rushed to render him assistance. They turned him over to rub his hands and unbutton his collar, expecting to find him in a fit. But no! On his face they found not the pain and pallor of epilepsy, but astonishment and mud. Villiers, when they laid hold of him, quickly jumped to his feet, shook the mud from his hands and clothes and then looked around for an explanation of his own apparently idiotic act. The explanation was forthcoming.

A few yards behind him stood a horse and cart. The carter had a moment after Villiers passed pulled the pin and allowed the cart box to dump upon the ground a load of gravel. The heavy beams of the cart, of course, struck the wood paving with a resounding "dull thud," and the clean gravel hissed out with an evil roar. This combination of sounds, the war artist declared, was identical with the striking of a live shell, and Villiers, forgetting that he then stood some thousands of miles from the seat of war, automatically flung himself down to await the dreadful explosion.

He Got the Information.

An English paper tells this story of the late Joseph Whitaker, the publisher of Whitaker's Almanack: "For the first issue he wanted, along with similar information, the amount of the salaries received by a number of certain high functionaries in the civil service. Application to these personages themselves was uniformly met with only flat refusals. Accordingly the Almanack appeared with a list of the officials, each credited with a purely imaginary sum.

"The result was instantaneous. Hardly had the first edition come out before those whose salaries had been underrated were impelled by 'amour propre' to write indignant corrections, while the polite statements of the inland revenue authorities were similarly efficacious where the alleged amount was at all in excess of the actual income."

A Fortunate Mistake.

"There is a young man in Chicago," says a local physician, "who now has a good business and bright prospects who received his start in life by securing $4 that did not belong to him. I hardly know under what to class the incident of obtaining the money. I will let the story explain his actions.

"This young man arrived in Chicago one day without funds, but with plenty of nerve and push. He wanted money to secure a meal and pay his room rent until he could secure a position. Believing he could find some man who would help him if he told his story in a straightforward manner, he entered a cigar establishment in Dearborn street. He was about to explain his condition and ask for assistance until he could get a position when the proprietor looked up with a fierce scowl. He turned to his partner, and they held a consultation in a whisper for a few moments. 'Now, take this $4 and don't bother me about that bill again. That's all you will get, and now you can get out of this place in a hurry,' exclaimed the storekeeper.

"The young man was pushed toward the door with the money in his hand, and, try as he would, the storekeeper would not let him talk. Once in the street the bewildered fellow considered the matter in every detail and decided to keep the money. This he did, and a month or so later he again walked into the cigar store and told his story and returned the money."—Chicago News.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

The Market Showed General Characteristics of Strength and Breadth. Some Details of Operations.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The stock market retained its general characteristics Tuesday of strength and breadth. A large outside interest was manifest and the professional operators, who bought at the lower level, were busy in bidding up the prices of their holdings and in feeding the new demand to take their profits; but while selling stocks from the one hand to realize on the rise, they were taking on new holdings of different stocks with the other.

The progress of a bull movement almost inevitably results in the transfer of holdings from strong to weak hands and leaves the market vulnerable to attack by bear operators, who are able to force selling by offering down prices and uncovering margins. Even Tuesday, attempts by bear operators were in evidence to force declines, but the general demand for stocks continued so good and the large holdings are still in such strong hands that the market resisted bear assaults and presented a hard and unyielding surface, even at points where realizing was going on.

Monday's strength in national steel gave way to realizing Tuesday, and the metal group of stocks was without any conspicuous leadership. Tennessee Coal was forced down at one time 3½ points.

The bears centered their attack on sugar, and had that stock down at one time to 108½.

Rumors that the refineries were to shut down and overproduction to be worked off at a loss figured in the manipulation. But, in the meantime, aggressive buying movement developed in the trunk lines, led by Pennsylvania, in the coalers, led by Reading first preferred, on the decision to pay a dividend, and in the granges and westerns, led by St. Paul and Atchison, both common and preferred.

The closing of the market was active and strong at about the top.

The bond market showed increased activity and general strength. Total sales, par value, $3,625,000. United States 3s advanced ½ and the new 4s ¼ in the bid price.

WOULD RUIN SOME TRADE.

Argument From a Commercial Standpoint Against Retention of Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The Philippine question again occupied the attention of the house, with a slight digression concerning the war in South Africa. The feature of the debate was the speech of Mr. Williams (Miss.), who presented an argument against the annexation of the Philippines which attracted much attention. It was devoted almost entirely to the commercial aspect of the question, holding that the absorption of the islands would be ultimately ruinous to the American producers of cotton, rice, tobacco, hemp and sugar.

Mr. Morris (Minn.) made an exhaustive legal argument in support of the right to hold and govern the islands. The other speakers were Messrs. Gibson (Tenn.), W. A. and H. C. Smith (Mich.), Cochran (Mo.) and Neville (Neb.).

The general debate on the diplomatic bill closed, and today it will be taken up for amendment under the five-minute rule.

FINANCIAL BILL HOLDS SWAY.

It will be considered every day, to the exclusion of other subjects.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Until the financial measure now pending before the senate shall have been disposed of finally, it will be considered by the senate every legislative day, to the exclusion of all except purely routine business. This arrangement will have the effect of cutting off all debate on the Philippine question or other matters except by unanimous consent of the senate, unless senators choose to discuss other questions in the time they devote to the financial bill.

Mr. Caffery (La.) concluded his speech on the Philippine question, holding that the United States ought to restore in the island the status quo, and then confer independence upon the Filipinos.

Mr. Butler (N. C.) discussed at length the proposed amendment to the constitution of North Carolina, in answer to speeches delivered by Senators Morgan, McEnery and Money.

One of Harrison's Jokes.

"Benjamin Harrison once played a mean trick on me at Miami university," said William P. Fishback. "We boarded with a widow in Oxford, and there came to be a discontent among the boys about the food not being sufficiently generous in supply. A meeting was held in Harrison's room to arrange a formal protest. Lots were cast as to who should present the case at the breakfast table. The ballot box was studied, and I was elected. I spoke at the breakfast table and stated that the boys objected to paying so much for so scant a menu. I expected to be supported by the others.

"Benjamin Harrison spoke and, to my dismay, said: We don't know how Mr. Fishback has been living at home—he may have been a pampered son of luxury—but, as for the rest of us, we have no complaint to make."

"And that disposition of fun and humor never left Benjamin Harrison."

—C. P. G. Tamm.

TOLEDO, Feb. 7.—Fire that started in the office of one Republican newspaper, the "Daily Journal," gutted the building and it was estimated at about
